ACCREDITING COMMISSION FOR COMMUNITY AND JUNIOR COLLEGES

The story of an institution is the story of the people, places, and communities that serve its students. Conversations about student success often focus solely on graduation rates or other benchmark data that can obscure the true impact that institutions, programs, and impactful practices changing lives inside and outside the classroom.

This month we are pleased to feature Campus, formerly known as MTI College and City College of San Francisco! Please take a look at the excerpt below, and check out www.accjconthemove.org for the full featured article.

Campus, formerly known as MTI College

Campus, formerly known as MTI College, is an associate degree and certificate granting institution based in Sacramento since 1965. Since its inception, the college has offered programs focused on enhancing student's career opportunities in areas connected to the needs of the economy, including healthcare, technology, law and business. In 2022, the institution underwent a change in control and became Campus. Under this new banner, the college aims to pioneer an innovative model for higher education.

City College of San Francisco

City College of San Francisco (CCSF) was founded in 1935 and is now one of the largest community colleges in California, serving over 60,000 students across six locations. The College prides itself in being a college “of the people, for the people of San Francisco” and embodying the values of innovation and self-determination for which the city is so widely known. As the world recovers from the impact of the pandemic, City College of San Francisco is placing ever more emphasis on supporting the whole student. One example is
